DELIGHT THE FAMILY WITH BURGUNDY BAKED HAM!

TRY THIS EASY RECIPE
Leave rind on ham. Put on rack, fat side up, in shallow roasting pan. Bake uncovered in slow oven, 325° F.
Allow about 25 minutes per pound for half a ham.
About 45 minutes before ham is done remove from oven and pour off drippings. Cut off rind and cut diamond pattern in layer of fat on ham.
Mix 2 cups brown sugar with enough Burgundy wine to make a thin paste. Spread over ham. Press clove in center of each diamond. Finish baking, occasionally dip up glaze in pan and drizzle over ham. Serve with scalloped potatoes.

Every Disease
Every disease could be found in the two prison camps in which the sergeant stayed. Everyone suffered from malnutrition. The food consisted of cracked corn and barley. No medical attention was available since all the doctors were needed at the front, they were told.

Patton, who weighed 210 lbs. at one time, went down to 80 lbs. At present he is back to 151 lbs. He suffered from malnutrition, disentry and yellow jaundice.

Silent on Some Things
Like many of the other POW's, Patton would not say much about indoctrination except that those who objected to indoctrination were punished, including solitary confinement.

What did the prisoners think about mostly? Patton stated that they tried to keep their mind off those who were dying. They'd think about struggling to keep alive as best they could.

The soldier, who is from Oklahoma, will take a trip there soon, the town having a big reception in store for him already. The chances are good, however, that Patton will settle down in Torrance.

Patch thinks that he owes his life to two American doctors who ministered to the prisoners until they were forbidden to do so. Patch, who had begun to limp, began using a cane, but was told never again to be seen with it, which advice kept him from becoming a cripple.

Patton also saw his father in San Francisco at the time he disembarked.

Majority Opinion
Councilman Spelman summed up the majority opinion by saying, "we're talking about the hottest job in the city, therefore we must look for the best man. If the people in the Police Department take the exams and end up 'high man on the totem pole' I'll support them to replace Chief Stroh."

Previous to Tuesday night's hearing it seemed as if the mayor's opinion might go for a restricted examination. However, he voted for the open exam.

No comment was forthcoming from Chief Stroh.
Local prospects for the post have revolved around Assistant Chief William Haslan, Detective Captain Ernie Ashton, and Detective Sergeant Percy Bennett.
